A SUGGESTION

Mr. Editor.—One impracticable suggestion to the Board of Immigration, as fitting and | ing for help in bossing the ranch, plausible as some which have been offered, is this which opens a wide unlimited source from there's a lot of fellows, that are around, and try-

All that remains is the fiat of the Board. Kau Tarawans; Kohala can take Hindoos; Makawao may claim the Norwegians; Hilo, the Portuguese; then Zulus, Nez Percés, Esquimaux, and others inured to labor in fields, and skilled in mill work like the Maoris, can be allotted as required to islands and districts. All would be relieved by such a provision for their turbulent and troublesome neighbors. France may spare some from Tunis, Chile from Peru. There are districts enough to afford many Governments a

The Consular corps will be relieved. They would not be liable to simultaneous appeals from all sides of the "eight seas." Each would soon learn the justice and wisdom of the coustituted authorities of their circuit, and so can estimate, before starting, the probability if there have been a denial of rights and protection.

The Foreign Office should be in favor of some such scheme, and the Immigration Bureau is at once freed from the conflicting advice offered by Employers should be satisfied, for all hands would be of a cognate race.

Then who are left to take the grumbler's east, except Hawaiians, and those of their friends who have immigrated at their own motion, and accept the situation cheerfully, satisfied with what the laws allow them to get, or hope for. Those are not desirable fellow residents in any land who are quick to invoke or threaten outside alien aid, and we have fallen on grievous, anxious times by this unnatural, unwholesome hooulu lahui.

Are we approaching the allowance of Consular Courts,-or is it safe or dignified to solicit their entangling complications? Anonym.
